2. ACTIVITIES

Following the election of doctoral student representatives, the inaugural meeting of the PPK DÖK was held online on November 11, 2025. All elected representatives were present at the meeting. The current five representatives represent both the Doctoral School of Psychology and the Doctoral School of Education, and an international student from the PDI also joined the work. Dorottya Erdős provided detailed information about the previous year's work and made all relevant documents available to me.

Participation in the meetings has not yet taken place. I was unable to attend the PPK faculty management meeting due to scheduling conflicts, and I was unable to attend the online meeting of the Doctoral School of Education Council due to technical problems.

I actively exercised my voting rights during the PPDT postal vote.

Throughout the month, we organized the recording of the minutes of the January complex exams through online consultations with representatives and in close cooperation with the NDI and PDI secretariats.

Together with the representatives, we discussed when we could organize in-person and/or online office hours. After agreeing on the dates, I contacted the head of the PPK Education and Research Support Group, as thanks to the work of last year's doctoral student president, the faculty is providing the DÖK with an office and a room for office hours this academic year. The room will be available to us at the times we requested.

There was a discussion about reviewing the content of the websites related to doctoral training and the lack of English translations on the DÖK website.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions or comments you may have. Thank you for reading my report.
